Daughter of Lana Is In Custody of Kin

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cheryl Crane 14, cleared of murdering Lana Turner's lover, is out of Juvenile Hall today but not in custody of her actress mother.

Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch, sitting in Santa Monica Juvenile Court Thursday gave Lana's mother two months' temporary custody of the teen-ager. She remains a ward of the court. The decision came just 20 days after Cheryl rammed a butcher knife into the stomach of Johnny Stompanato, a one-time henchman of ex-gambler Mickey Cohen.

The ruling was in effect, a continuance of the Juvenile Court hearing until June 26. Then a re-appraisal of the case will be made to determine who gets permanent custody.

A coroner's jury ruled the slaying of Stompanato justifiable homicide. The Juvenile Court hearing cleared the girl of any possible murder charges. Charges of lack of proper parental control will be considered at another hearing June 26.

The decision made Lana, Cheryl and Mrs. Mildred Turner very happy. But the joy was not shared wholeheartedly by Steve Crane, the child's father.

Crane has made no secret of the fact that he would like full custody of his daughter.

Mental Health Workers Needed

Association Holds 2nd Annual Meeting

The need for volunteer workers was stressed at the second annual meeting of the Columbiana County Mental Health Assn. held Thursday night at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon.

Miss Estelle Esterly of Columbiana, chairman of the volunteer services committee, recounted the year's activities in visits to Woodside Receiving Hospital, in Youngstown, and in the homes of discharged patients. She said her committee was understaffed and that volunteers are needed in all communities for this work.

William Weir of Salem, chairman of the speakers bureau and information committee, reported that the speakers bureau service was now available to all groups in the county wishing a program on the subject of mental health.

Bryce Kendall of Salem reviewed the workshop, "Mental Health in the Classroom," held for all the teachers of Columbiana County in East Liverpool last November. Present plans are to continue this workshop in the future as an annual event.

Paul Blair of East Liverpool, Dr. Paul Beaver of Leetonia, the Rev. Laten Carter of Salem, and the Rev. C. O. Armstrong of Lisbon, who were re-elected to three-year terms as members of the board of trustees.

Judge Louis Tobin introduced the speaker, Dr. Roger Gove, psychiatrist in charge and superintendent of the Juvenile Diagnostic Center at Columbus, whose topic was "Juvenile Delinquency as a Mental Health Problem." Dr. Gove said there is no scientific course of parental treatment of children and that parents should do what is natural for them with their own children.

Dr. Gove spoke of the importance of education for prevention of delinquency, better mental health and increasing the scope and staff of the probation office of the juvenile courts.

Uhrichsville Supports Mayor In Highway Fight

Conference Fails To Yield Compromise Between City, State

UHRICHVILLE, Ohio (AP)—City Council Thursday night voted support to Uhrichsville Mayor Jess Dempster in his highway blockade, which has been attacked in the courts by the State Highway Department.

A hearing was to have been held Thursday in Tuscarawas County Common Pleas Court at New Philadelphia on the department's request for an injunction against the barricades. Instead, Judge Cletus A. Fisher conducted a 4½-hour conference urging the city and department to compromise.

They could not.

Says Repair Funds Lacking
Dempster, who ordered the barricades up two weeks ago on combined U.S. 250 and 36 and Ohio 8 maintained that the city has no funds for repairs on the 1,800-foot section of highway. He wants the state to pay the major portion of the rebuilding job that is needed.

William Quicksall Jr., deputy director of the highway department's division 11, offered the city use of department equipment to make temporary repairs so the routes can be reopened until a permanent solution is worked out. Dempster turned down this offer.

State Can Pay 50 Per Cent
The department contends that for a rebuilding job estimated to cost $150,000 it can pay no more than 50 per cent, Dempster says the city can afford to pay no more than 5 per cent of the cost of such a project.

Judge Fisher set the final hearing for May 27 to give both sides more time. "There will be no more continuances," he declared.

The judge said he would not "order those barricades down with the street in the condition it is."

"The city does have the authority to close the street if it is necessary," he continued.

Motorists passing through Uhrichsville can resort to side-streets to get around the blockade. However driver of heavy trucks risk arrest for violating the city's 5-ton load limit if they try to skirt the barricades.

Senate Faces First Voting On Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate faces its first showdown voting today on whether to extend the scope of a labor bill beyond federal supervision of employee welfare and pension plans.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) planned to call up about 10 broadening amendments. He described them as designed to enforce democracy in unions.

The Senate also had before it amendments recommended by President Eisenhower.

Sponsors of the measure remained confident they could defeat all amendments and confine the bill to the one subject for which it originally was intended.

This purpose is to prevent wrongdoing in connection with the employee benefit plans by requiring registration with the secretary of labor and full disclosure of the detailed operations of each plan.

Sponsors of the bill succeeded 59-28 Thursday night in defeating the first proposed amendment to the bill—in an effort by Sen. Alott (R-Colo.) to exempt from its provisions welfare and benefit plans of a type largely controlled by management.

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said the groundwork for the Democratic arguments against the Knowland and administration amendments by pledging to hold hearings on broad labor legislation starting May 5. Kennedy, chairman of a Senate Labor subcommittee, estimated the hearings could be finished in three weeks.

Fire Destroys Autos, Garage, Barn In Lisbon

LISBON — A three-car garage, a single-car garage, a barn, four cars and a truck were destroyed or damaged in a fire at 1:05 a.m. today at the rear of the 300 block on N. Market St.

Fire Chief George Porter was unable to give total estimated damages caused by the fire that was out of control before firemen were summoned.

A 1953 car, power mower and garden equipment in a three-car garage were destroyed by the blaze which gutted the garage owned by Kenneth Hult.

Leo Gotthardt, lost a 1954 auto, a two-wheel trailer and a drag racer being built by him in a barn on the Mary Burnison property.

A dump truck owned by David Eason was destroyed, and cars belonging to Jimmie Howard, and Eddie Thomas was damaged by the heat.

A garage south of the Hult garage was also damaged. It belonged to John Holshue. He was able to remove his truck, car, power mower and two power saws before they were damaged.

Firemen also fought a grass fire about one and one-half miles west of Lisbon off Rt. 30, Thursday afternoon, and they were also called to aid in quelling a grass fire two miles southeast of Lisbon that started on Thompson place on Rt. 30. The fire burned over old Rt. 30 and over the Roller Coaster Road before firemen from Lisbon, and West Point were able to get it under control.

U.S. Bureau Promises Aid On Road Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Public Roads was described today as ready to move quickly to help Ohio get its emergency roads program rolling.

George Williams assistant commissioner for engineering at the bureau, said this in response to complaints by Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill that federal approval of roads projects entails too much red tape.

Williams told a reporter in discussing readiness to clear Ohio projects:

"I think the complaints are about previous differences of opinion between the Ohio State Highway Department and the Bureau of Roads."

"On this new program if they feel they are not getting action soon enough, then let them holler."

O'Neill made a special trip to Washington Wednesday to ask the Ohio GOP delegation for assistance in getting clearance on projects to be built with $15,800,000 in funds just provided by Congress as Ohio's share for the construction of primary secondary and urban roads.

O'Neill said he wants to get the program started this summer.

"We've had letters from congressmen from Ohio on this same subject," Williams said. "We're just as aware as any of them of the problems."

BASICALLY SOUND — Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee, left, enjoys a laugh with Defense Secretary Neil McElroy prior to Washington hearings on President Eisenhower's military reorganization plan. Vinson said that the nation's military setup is basically "sound" but added that "some changes" are needed in the Pentagon.

Unit Is Stalling Plans to Seek Quick Action

Republican Members Attack Democratic Measure As 'Dole'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opposition by half the powerful House Rules Committee has stalled plans for House action early next week on a Democratic-sponsored plan for special unemployment benefits.

Committee Chairman Smith (D-Va.), Rep. Colmer (D-Miss.) and the four Republican members of the 12-man group Thursday attacked the measure as a dole which they contend might threaten the present federal-state jobless insurance program.

House leaders had hoped to get Rules Committee clearance for the Democratic bill so it could be taken up in the House next Monday or Tuesday. But Smith held only a brief meeting and then called a recess until next Monday.

The Rules Committee decides what legislation will be considered by the House.

The Democratic bill, which would cost an estimated 1½ billion dollars, would go far beyond a 600-million-dollar emergency proposal made by President Eisenhower. The President also has used the term dole in criticizing some aspects of the Democratic plan, which would be financed by the federal government and would cover many workers not now eligible for jobless payments.

Eisenhower's proposal for an emergency extension of such payments would apply only to workers now covered by the federal-state program. Any federal funds used in that temporary program would have to be repaid by the states.

This unemployment compensation proposal was mentioned by Vice President Nixon Thursday night when he said there are substantial indications that steps already taken by the administration "will be all that will be required to give the economy the help it needs."

Nixon spoke in New York a few hours after Eisenhower signed a bill aimed at giving the economy a boost by speeding up supply purchases by federal agencies.

Bogus Check Passer Bound to Grand Jury

Charles Wright, 30, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., was bound over to the grand jury Thursday afternoon after pleading guilty to two charges of passing fraudulent checks in Salem during the past two weeks.

He is being held under $1,000 bond on each count.

Wright was apprehended in East Palestine Tuesday when he attempted to pass a bad check at the A & P store there. Police Chief George T. Earley and Patrolmen Robert Kirchgesner returned Wright to Salem Tuesday.

Wright pleaded guilty to passing bogus checks at the People's Drug Store and at McBane-McArtor's Drug Store. Glenn Arnold, manager at People's accompanied Earley and Kirchgesner to East Palestine Tuesday where he definitively identified Wright as the man who had passed the bad check at his store.

Wright has also admitted having passed some $1,000 in fraudulent checks throughout Ohio during the past five months.

The youths were picked up in Louisville by state highway patrolmen and returned here early this morning. The patrol and Louisville police had been alerted by Salem police who received a call last night regarding a car, obviously loaded with heavy material, traveling at a high rate of speed west on State St. onto the Georgetown Road.

The pair admitted stealing the scrap which has been identified as having been taken from the machine company, Police Chief George Earley said.

Akron Killer Granted Executive Clemency

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill today granted executive clemency to condemned slayer Joe Lancaster, 49, of Akron.

Lancaster was scheduled to die tonight in the Ohio Penitentiary electric chair for the Oct. 8, 1956 fatal shooting of Mrs. Louise Wallick of Akron.

The governor's action commutes Lancaster's sentence to life imprisonment.

Gov. O'Neill said he acted after a thorough study of the case and upon the unanimous recommendation for clemency by the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission.

Lancaster was living with Mrs. Wallick at the time of her death. She was shot during a quarrel. Lancaster has maintained that she obtained the gun from a drawer and that it accidentally discharged while he was taking it away from her.

Truman States GOP Policies Caused Slump

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman says Republican financial policies caused the economic recession. He predicts another bust similar to 1929 unless "somebody stops those fellows."

Truman spoke Thursday night at the annual $50-a-plate fund-raising dinner sponsored by the New York County Democratic Committee.

"The Republicans are not to be trusted with the command of the administrative or legislative departments" of either national or state governments, he said.

Truman decried the tight money policies of the Eisenhower administration and took big business to task for what he termed shortsightedness.

Rep. Jenkins Plans To Seek Re-Election

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins of southern Ohio's 10th congressional district says he plan to run for re-election despite being hospitalized.

Jenkins entered Bethesda Naval Hospital more than a week ago for extensive checkups. So far, his doctors have refused to discuss his condition.

But an aide to the 77-year-old Ironton Republican said he has been up and about during part of his stay in the hospital.

Jenkins' friends and supporters are beginning to be concerned over his health. They point out that Jenkins, formerly a vigorous campaigner, has returned to Ohio only once since February and has not appeared at any GOP primary election rallies.

Meanwhile, Jenkins' two primary opponents, Homer Aberle, McArthur attorney, and Lancaster Mayor John H. Weis, are staging strong campaigns.

William Rowland of Athens, campaign advisor to Aberle, tried unsuccessfully to see Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn Thursday. It was reported he wanted Alcorn to persuade Jenkins to resign for reasons of ill health.

The 10th district includes the counties of Fairfield, Hocking, Vinton, Athens, Meigs, Jackson, Gallia and Lawrence.

Spring Cleanup

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Along about this time of year a number of mysterious signs start appearing on my desk.

They say such things as: "Order is heaven's first law." "Order is a lovely thing." "This is an office—not the city dump."

"Clean up or move out." And I sigh. For I realize the forces of cleanliness and righteousness have launched their annual "let's spruce up the place and look neat" campaign.

One must, for some reason or another, cooperate—or else run the risk of having a battle star ripped from one's good conduct ribbon.

So, dutifully, I get a shovel and spade into the lovely mountain of rubble on my desk and load it into big cardboard boxes. When my desk is spotlessly bare, I get a crisp "Well done" from one of the top sergeants in the office reform wave brigade. But it isn't a very satisfying reward. I feel miserable until the passage of time builds a new pile of debris on my desk.

What puzzles me is why we indoor peasants who love a cluttered desk meekly bow to the iron will of these paper clip Hitlers who sternly decree, "A desk should be as clean as your conscience at all times."

Personally, I have always held that it's the man with a cluttered desk who has the clearest conscience, because the mess on his desk prove he has nothing to hide. It's the guy who keeps his desk proves he has nothing who's the prey of inner guilt. Obviously he must be hiding some terrible secret he doesn't want the rest of the office world to know.

The blunt psychological truth is this: A clean desk is the sign of a frightened mind.

But in a free world a man should have the right to keep his desk in any condition he wants to, subject only to the public safety and the local fire laws. The annoying thing is that these clean desk fiends insist that your desk be as nude and anonymous and lacking in personality as theirs. That way lies tyranny, the death of identity, and the spreading blight of ignoble conformity.

To me the top of a desk isn't merely a work site. It is a tower of magic, a storing place for wonderful memories, a warehouse of enchantment and the souvenirs of living. All that piles thereon isn't debris, but duty layers of excitement and wonder.

But enough of this day-dreaming. It's time to get a shovel and step ladder and go to work. The order is out: "All desks clean by tonight."

Camp Reservations Swamp Scout Office

LISBON — Columbiana Boy Scout Council's camping and activities chairman, Eugene Seeley of Chester, W. Va., announced today that reservations for summer camp have been arriving at the council office so rapidly that already the last two weeks of camp are completely filled, and only a few more troops can be accommodated during the first two weeks.

Already over 400 scouts and explorers are registered to attend summer camp "Twin Spruce" located on Leesville Lake near Carrollton.

The jump in attendance applications this year as compared to last year is attributed to the emphasis being placed on program. Additional staff members have been hired, including a camp nurse, chaplain and 12 other extra staff members.

The camp director's post and program director's post will be filled by Columbiana Council's two district executives, Leonard McDaniel and Duane Miller.

Central feeding has been added to Camp Twin Spruce this year. In former years the boys cooked their meals by troops at their camp sites.

New programs added this year include sailing, astronomy, angling instruction, handicraft instruction, bird study, forestry, insect study, nature classes, reptile study, soil and water conservation classes, wild life management and zoology.

In addition, Camp Twin Spruce offer archery, axmanship, boating, canoeing, badminton, compass instruction, cooking instruction, fishing, first aid, swimming, hiking, rifle range, skeet range, nature trails, horsehoes, conservation and rope instruction and campfire instruction.

Troops that have not already sent in reservations to the council office in Lisbon are urged to do so at once.

When a Cleaned Street Is Not Clean

Clean streets and sidewalks and neatly kept homes and buildings reflect the pride a community takes in itself.

Early each morning city service department crews literally sweep the streets as far as downtown State St. and Broadway are concerned but by 10 o'clock the average citizen wouldn't know it. In fact, he or she probably didn't realize heretofore that the streets were cleaned on a daily schedule.

Service Director Harry Vincent

complains, and justifiably so, that a number of merchants sweep out store entrances and walks and then proceed to dump everything into the street at the curb's edge. Passing automobiles whirl the paper and dirt about the street and back onto the walks.

Mr. Vincent says the city spends about $345 a month to clean the streets only to have his efforts frustrated by those he is trying to help.

The service director deserves better cooperation than he is getting.

Consumers Aren't Mad at Anyone

There is nothing wrong with business in this country that would disappear in a hurry if potential consumers with buying power became actual consumers.

That is why the President of the United States stresses the importance of buying what is needed, instead of hanging back.

That is why the most direct action being taken in the business slump is the buy-now campaigning of business concerns, themselves. Government can treat only the side-effects of the slump. Consumers alone can cure it.

But if it is granted that this is true, it must be granted that something else is true. There is no evidence of a buyers' strike.

Retail business held up extraordinarily well for months after the slowdown in manufacturing became troublesome last summer. Many kinds of business are still feeling no effect. Even in automobiles, the main sticking point in the slowdown, there is no sound reason to believe potential consumers are resisting the auto industry because of anything it has done or failed to do.

CONSUMERS AREN'T MAD at anyone; they simply are not falling over one another to buy. The buying power of many of them, moreover, has been shrunk by unemployment and part-time employment.

Hand in hand with the rediscovery that the consumer is still king in this mass-production-mass-consumption economy is the discovery that no one knows what makes the consumer tick. His moods and whims are as cloaked in mystery as the thoughts and impulses of the Dalai Lama.

In the absence of knowledge, the people whose aim in life is to make something consumers want at a price they will be willing to pay have nothing to guide them but intuition. There are times when consumers will buy anything and think it's a bargain, and there are times when even bargains will not draw consumers out of their shells.

Those of us who are old enough to remember how emphasis shifted from theories about "overproduction" to theories about "underconsumption" in the '30s are wondering if the current recession may not be a plateau on which consumers are resting before starting a fresh ascent on the world's highest standard of living.

WHAT EVERY ECONOMIST knows — though he may forget it — is that no one ever has come close to guessing the potential consumption in this country even when things were booming.

Who would have guessed, for example, that millions of Americans who already owned automobiles would also own motor-driven boats by 1957? Who would have guessed in the first 20 years of this century that by the mid-'50s there would be 65 million automobiles?

The next boom will come when consum-

Unselfish Service

The Silver Beaver medal is the highest award that can be conveyed on a scout, an adult who devotes hours of effort in furthering the advancement of the Boy Scout program because he recognizes the wonderful opportunities and values that scouting gives the boys.

Howard Firestone, who received the Silver Beaver citation here Tuesday night, was not the first Salem man to receive the award, nor will he be the last. But, Mr. Firestone is typical of the active citizens who take time from their business interests to help guide the scouting program to greater accomplishments.

Arthur V. Smith, another Silver Beaver recipient who presently is at home recuperating from a serious operation, headed the camping program of the Columbia County Scout Council for years, yet he had no sons of his own.

There are others and there will be more men like them, happy and energetic at the thought of being able to offer a helping hand to boys, who, through scouting, will become better citizens of tomorrow.

Adult leaders are as essential to the scouting program as teachers are to school pupils. We commend them all.

We Feel Better

While the experts are figuring out the purpose of Russia's protest about Strategic Air Command bombers at this time, most of us are content to feel good about the protest, itself.

It is reassuring to know that the SAC is making routine forays deep into the approaches to Russian territory; that is what it is supposed to do. Every American understands that the purpose of these flights is to make sure no Russian in a position to give a military order ever will forget what the consequences of an attack on the United States would be.

The Russians know all about the SAC's around-the-clock vigilance, just as we know all about Russia's vigilance. This is the best hope there is at the moment for peace. The United States was tumbled into two wars in Europe and one in Korea by advertising its lack of preparation. It does not intend to let that happen again.

Whatever their reasons for talking about it, it's good to know that the Russians are in no danger of being misinformed about the consequences of trying to put over a sucker punch.

NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER and editors met in a convention, bringing together the largest group of Americans dedicated to doing it the hard way. There is no other business with a steadier supply of head-aches. A publisher or editor gets more criticism for a mistake in high and low tide table than men in other businesses get for a passed dividend. These men take more abuse for a misspelled name than a bank president takes for absconding with funds. To be a newspaper publisher requires not only brains, but valor beyond the call of duty and patience in the face of unfair raps. He has to be a combination business genius, showman, guide, miracle worker, civic leader, hockey league goal tender and educator. And there are times when he is supposed to do it all without eating regularly or getting much sleep.

WITH HIS EDITOR he must function as public information bureau, an economic expert, a specialist in all emergencies and throw in advice to the lovelorn, tell a reader how to repair a roof and dry the orphan's tear. He must regard a nervous breakdown as routine, relish insomnia as an occupational disease and patiently endure letters in every mail bawling him out because of a printer's error in giving the date of the new moon.

The Grass Roots Opinion

By DAVID BARNETT

Various estimates have been made of the political tempers of congressmen since their "pulse-taking" trips to their constituencies during Easter.

For a comprehensive, scientific survey, made under controlled opinion - sampling methods, North American Newspaper Alliance commissioned Walter Gerson and Associates, Inc. marketing and management consultants, to find out what grass roots opinion the congressmen found in their constituencies and, also, what the viewpoints were of the returning congressmen.

Seventy-seven of the 96 members of the Senate were successfully questioned by a specially trained staff of interviewers. In the House, 102 representatives, scientifically chosen to reflect the political divisions and geographical apportionment of the membership, were questioned.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has substantial support in Congress for his Pentagon reorganization plan. Although half the members were undecided, a third of the representatives and a third of the senators give solid support to the chief executive's proposal, a scientific poll showed today.

The poll also indicated:

1. A tax reduction probably would be passed by the House if brought to a vote now but it would be defeated in the Senate.
2. Constituents in three fourths of the districts and states are more concerned about the general economic conditions, including unemployment and farm income, than in any other problem. Less than 5 per cent listed high taxes as the major problem. Almost 60 per cent found economic conditions in their districts unchanged in the past month.
3. Constituents in more than half of the political subdivisions have no opinions discernible to their congressmen on hydrogen bomb testing, a Summit Conference or on the President's Pentagon reorganization proposal.
4. In areas where opinion on these subjects has formed, the congressmen contend the people support the administration in its insistence that effective international agreement be reached before the U.S. stops nuclear bomb tests.
5. Similarly, the congressmen found, by a much smaller majority, that their constituents feel a Summit Conference at this time would not reduce world tension.
6. Congressmen are "ahead" of their constituents in support of the President's plan to reorganize the military services.
7. The country, as determined

THE POLL INDICATED that what a congressman found about economic conditions in his home district or state was heavily influenced by his political point of view.

Not one Republican of the 77 senators interviewed reported conditions worse than a month ago, for instance. Majorities on both sides of the political fence found conditions unchanged during the past month. Democratic senators who found things worse were exactly balanced by Republicans and one Democratic senator who found things better.

House members, who are perhaps a little closer to the spotty areas of high unemployment, were

Mystery Surrounds Soviet Strategy in UN

There's a bit of mystery as to just why the Soviets went to the United Nations Security Council to spread a propaganda which blames America for keeping bombers constantly in the air as a precaution against possible attack. The withdrawal of the topic from the council by the Russians for the time being does not by any means end the debate.

Back of the latest episode is a highly interesting story of changes in Soviet military strategy. Up to March 1955 it was largely defensive and based on the use of conventional forces. Since that date, however, the Soviet military journals have been proclaiming what has been called "preemptive war." This is to be differentiated from "preventive war," by which is meant the old doctrine that one power must attack the other long before it becomes militarily strong enough to inflict defeat.

An interesting article on the Soviet strategy appeared in the January 1958 issue of "Foreign Affairs," published quarterly by the Council on Foreign Relations of New York City. In that article Herbert S. Dinerstein, who is on the staff of a non-profit organization that conducts research for the U.S. Air Force, wrote:

The strategy of fighting a preemptive war — getting in the first blow against an opponent poised to strike — as advocated by Gen. Roimistrov and officially adopted in 1955, is essentially a strategy of the second best. For under these conditions, it is the opponent who chooses war; the Soviet Union simply makes the best of it in seeking by earlier action to blunt the opponent's first blow.

'AS LONG AS the Soviet Union has no hope, in its first strike, of hitting the opponent's striking forces effectively enough to preclude retaliation, the initiation of war is an act of extreme desperation. If the Soviet Union could create a weapons system permitting the elimination of our striking force without fear of effective retaliation, the Soviet leaders could attack if and when they pleased."

Since that time America has adapted its own strategy to the new circumstances. Gen. Norstad, the top commander of NATO, said on Dec. 13, 1957:

"As we go along and add missile launchers, there will be increasing thousands of places an aggressor would have to destroy in one blow.

The Urge to Destroy

By TRUMAN TWILL

You pick up your newspaper wherever you are and read about senseless slaughter on public highways, not accidents but murders committed by people who play Russian roulette with your life.

Maybe the roulette player loses, too, but he had it coming. It was his game, not yours. You didn't know you were playing. But you should know it.

No driver who operates an automobile on a public highway above the legal speed limit, which in most cases is 10 miles above the speed at which reasonable control can be maintained, is giving his fellowman a decent break.

For every five miles he adds to the legal speed, he is cutting down his fellowman's margin of security. In the version of Russian roulette he is playing, he is adding one more bullet to the cylinder of the gun pointed at your head.

He is not dumb about what he is doing.

He knows the risk. He realizes he is going to wind up in a morgue. But he is driven by some unhealthy urge to take you with him. If he kills a few of his fellowmen, he doesn't give a whoop. If he did, he would slow down.

There is no such thing in this country after a generation of systematic information and agitation about highway hazards as a driver who does not know what they are.

There is no such thing any more as a driver who can be excused for committing manslaughter in the course of taking his own life. His urge to self-destruction has been cold-bloodedly broadened out to include you.

In California, these killers are turned over to psychiatrists as soon as they have revealed beyond any doubt what they are up to. They are handled thereafter as sick people who cannot be allowed to mingle with sane people.

You read about them wherever you are. The next time you get into your automobile, one of them may be waiting for you.

Matter of Fact

Contrary to popular opinion, James Watt did not invent the steam engine. Actually the steam engine had already been invented and was used for driving pumps in mines when Watt was born in 1736. Watt did, however, make improvements that made the engine easier to operate, more reliable, economical and powerful.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"Remember when we decided never to quarrel while the kids were at home? Well, they've all been gone for years—anything on your mind?"

No aggressor can do this. It is impossible. The retaliatory capability of our Western forces could not be destroyed by simultaneous surprise attack either now or in the future."

This, however, requires constant alertness by the Strategic Air Command of the United States and the similar command in NATO. The "first blow" dilemma is described by Secretary of Defense McElroy in a copyrighted interview this week in "U.S. News World Report," when he says:

"The thing which makes our problem more difficult than his (the enemy's) is that we are committed not to strike the first blow. Under those circumstances, for the fellow that will make up his mind only after he sees these weapons coming in his direction, the cost of defense preparation is considerably increased because of the necessity of much more rapid reaction to an actual strike than if he were doing the striking himself."

The secretary was asked about meeting the "first blow" of the enemy and replied:

"If course, what we have to do is to observe it far enough out so that we will have our forces in the air on the way to deliver our own destructive counterblow to him. . . we don't think that we can stop all of them, so we assume that some of them will get through.

"WE HAVEN'T, of course, at the present time any antiballistic-missile capability, so that if he (the enemy) had them — the long-range missiles — today they would all get through. But he doesn't have the quantities of missiles he would require to deliver such a blow to this country."

The secretary thereupon was asked: "Then do we accept destruction, really — before we do anything?"

Mr. McElroy's reply was: "No, we are not accepting destruction before we do anything. We are accepting destruction of some order as inevitable but we will be on the way to deliver our own destruction to him. We must be on our way with either missiles or aircraft. A combination of the two is probably what will be involved."

The mere mention of these highly delicate points emphasizes why a disarmament agreement has become almost compulsory.

The Soviets may have unwittingly brought to a head the very problem that has to be solved if the peoples of the world are to avoid a terrible war.

This can be done only if peoples everywhere insist on an ironclad system of inspection such as the Soviets are stubbornly refusing to accept. But in refusing, the Kremlin leaders become the "warmongers" of the era.

ready to make you the victim of his urge to destroy life—yours and his.

The only break the public ever gets is when these would-be murderers destroy themselves. Every time they die, the save the lives of innocent people they ultimately would have killed if they had stayed alive.

The ordinary run of motorists in this country are getting safer all the time. If they monopolized the highways there would be no accidents, other than those that are actually unavoidable.

But drivers who are trying to save lives share the highways with motorists who are hell-bent on destroying lives. No one can breathe easy until these people have been taken out of circulation as swiftly and positively as would - be murderers who run amuck with guns.

Questions and Answers

A common complaint, particularly of older people, is presented by today's first inquirer.

Q — Please give some information on "floaters" in the eye. I have a number of these and find them very annoying. Can anything be done for them?

A — These floaters are probably the result of crystals lying in the portion of the eye known as the vitreous. They have a tendency to come and go but may gather in an area where they no longer cause trouble. They are considered to be more of a nuisance than a disease. The question as to whether they can be successfully treated medically is debatable. Surgery is not used.

Q — Why do some people still have attacks of gallbladder pain after the gallbladder has been removed?

A — There are actually several possibilities. Perhaps the most common is the formation of gallstones which may lodge in the passageway between the liver and the intestines. In each instance the probable cause has to be carefully investigated. Whether the situation can be handled by diet or medicine or whether additional surgery is necessary is often a difficult problem.

Q — Please say something about the skin disease known as lichen planus.

A — This is a peculiar skin disease sometimes coming on suddenly and sometimes of a chronic nature. It often causes itching. Its cause is not known and the treatment, therefore, has to be aimed at the symptoms. In general, there is agreement that there are emotional or psychic factors present in the disease, though it is hard to believe that this is the only cause. The treatment consists of local measures applied to the skin, analysis of emotional factors, if present, and occasional careful administration of one of the steroid hormone preparations of which cortisone is the best known.

Q — Three or four times a day I become so lightheaded I feel as though I would black out. This is getting worse but the doctors have not found anything wrong with me. Have you any suggestions?

A — This is a peculiar symptom. It would be necessary to analyze carefully what precedes an attack. Does one come on, for example, if the head is suddenly lowered? Something of this sort often requires a good deal of medical detection, including thorough studies of the circulation of blood, the blood pressure, the effect of the emotions and the like.

Q — Please say something about hardening of the arteries of the heart. Is it serious?

A — The wording of this inquiry makes one suspect that there is some hardening of the coronary arteries which supply blood to the heart muscle. Sometimes this leads to angina pectoris or a heart attack. There is probably no way to treat hardening of the coronary arteries, but the general management of the person involved depends on the presence or absence of symptoms* and physical condition.

Versatility is a growing trend in America's clothing fashions. Manufacturers are putting more multiple use products on the market every year. Double duty clothes are designed to give full value to the consumer in the present world of high prices and tight budgets.

Recently, a new fashion called the convert-a-dress, designed by Daryl of St. Louis, was given a grand award by a department store of Allentown, Pa.

The completely reversible dress, has been on the market only since January, but has had wide retail acceptance.

Its summer styles include a princess sheath, a chemise, a shirt-waist dress and a coat dress. The fabrics contrast sharply so that a change of costume is effectively made when the dress is worn inside out.

Usually one side is in a print, the other in a plain fabric.

Vanguard Launching Attempt Postponed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An attempt to launch the Vanguard rocket with a basketball-sized satellite aboard was postponed early today after a countdown of several hours.

The Navy gave no reason for the postponement, which was decided upon at 12:59 a.m. There was no indication when the attempt might be resumed.

Several times the countdown or preliminary check progressed to within three to seven minutes of zero, then was set back.

The new Vanguard satellite is 20 inches in diameter and weighs 21½ pounds. It is three times heavier than its predecessor, Vanguard I, launched March 17.

School Upheaval Reported in Alabama

FORT PAYNE, Ala. (AP) — A long-standing dispute among educators climaxed by a three-day strike of high school pupils, has resulted in an upheaval of Fort Payne's school system.

The pupils struck Monday when they learned that principal J. B. Hulsey of Fort Payne High School would not be rehired next year.

Hulsey resigned last Friday. The approximately 500 pupils had demanded that Hulsey be rehired, and that Supt. of Education Wilson F. Gonce be fired.

Gonce resigned effective July 1. Thursday night the City Council adopted a plan whereby the entire city school board will be rotated out of office, one member every six months.

Gonce said those who opposed his viewpoint "should be partially satisfied even if they aren't getting the reinstatement of Mr. Hulsey."

School officials and members of the board insist they did not give in to the pupils, who returned to classes Thursday.

"It is simply that Mr. Hulsey could not come around to our way of thinking," a board member said.

Hulsey, 45, said he had never been given any specific reason for not being rehired.

UAW Won't Discuss Cutback Reports

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers spokesmen refused comment today on a report the union's International Executive Board has authorized a 10 percent pay cut for 25 top UAW officers including President Walter Reuther.

The board meeting here to review contract negotiations to date with the auto industry's Big Three also was reported to have ordered layoffs for 100 UAW staff employees.

Both the salary cuts and layoff were among economies agreed to by the board in an effort to offset a decrease in union revenues.

The reported salary cuts will go to the 6 top officers of the union and the 19 members of the Executive Board.

Estimates of the amount of money saved ranged up to $50,000 a month composed principally of the salaries of the laid-off staff employees.

Reuther, who said in March that he received $20,920 in salary last year, would take a $2,092 pay cut under the plan.

Record Wheat Crop Predicted

25% Hike Expected In U.S. Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — This year's wheat crop may turn out to be a big headache for government farm officials but promises to become a recession time jobmaker.

The Agriculture Department says the crop may turn out to be at least 25 per cent larger than last year's production and the fourth largest of record. A crop of this size — forecast at 1,190,000,000 bushels compared with 947 million last year — would add probably 200 million bushels to the government's surplus.

But it would require much more labor and machinery to harvest than was needed to get in the 1957 crop. It would require many more trains and trucks to move it to market and into warehouses than did last year's production.

Officials said this would add up to more work for harvest crews, more jobs and truck drivers and railroad workers, and more for works at market and storage centers.

This year's wheat crop, like those since 1954, is being grown under rigid controls and retirement of some wheat land under the soil bank program. But unusually favorable weather and moisture — plus overplanting of allotments by some growers — is boosting production this year fully 20 per cent above levels desired by farm officials.

If the crop turns out as now indicated, these undoubtedly would be a net movement of at least 200 million bushels into government hands under price supports at a cost averaging around $1.80 a bushel or a total of about 360 million dollars.

Speedy Action on 3 SUB Cases Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill has asked for speedy consideration of three supplemental unemployment benefit (SUB) cases now pending before the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC).

He says the cases should be available for possible Supreme Court consideration.

In a letter Thursday to Richard L. Krabach, chairman of the BUC's board of review, O'Neill said it is possible a SUB case may be thrown out on a jurisdictional question.

"This might well leave the supplemental unemployment benefit question undetermined upon its merits," O'Neill said.

The case involves a decision by Mahoning County Common Pleas and Appellate courts that SUB payments under Ohio law can be paid simultaneously with state jobless benefits. BUC Administrator James Tichenor has ruled that SUB payments must be deducted from state benefits.

The governor's reference to the possibility the Supreme Court may throw out the case is based on the belief the suit should have been brought in Franklin County rather than Mahoning County courts.

In the event the high court should throw out the case, O'Neill said in the letter "I think it important that . . . another case, which would present the question upon the merits, be available for consideration by the Supreme Court with a minimum of delay."

The three cases before the BUC board involve lump sum and periodic payment of SUB.

President, Wife View Churchill's Paintings

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower flies to Augusta Ga., for a weekend of golf — after voicing admiration of the oil paintings of his old friend Sir Winston Churchill.

The President and his wife went to the Smithsonian Institution and spent about half an hour enthusiastically looking over the 35 Churchill paintings.

Eisenhower, himself an amateur artist had a big hand in persuading Britain's former Prime Minister to send the best of his paintings to the United States.

As the President and Mrs. Eisenhower left the display hall, an hysterical red-haired woman broke from a crowd of onlookers, screaming "I've got to get to him."

Police and Secret Service agents grabbed her as she approached Eisenhower and said later she told a story of not being able to collect her Army husband's allotment checks.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Labor leaders are beginning to punish their friends. And they may be rewarding their enemies—the racketeers—if what I heard last Saturday finally becomes official national policy for the AFL-CIO.

I sacrificed a day in the sun to hear thunder hurled by Al Hayes, chief of labor's own police court, at the McClellan Committee. Hayes' man-made lightning also struck the awed friends of labor who have pointed out that the racketeers are so deep in some unions that there must be laws to cope with this infiltration.

If what Mr. Hayes said becomes national policy—or at least official policy reflects the AFL-CIO's Ethical Practices Committee—labor wants no law, whether proposed by Senators John Kennedy, William Knowland, Irving Ives or John McClellan. And labor apparently is willing to see the Senate racket busting committee dismantled rather than have it come up with new exposures which might incite righteous public indignation and demands for new legislation this year.

Brother Hayes, leader of one million machinists, aircraft and missile workers, must have been serious, for he spoke at a New Dealish gathering of the League for Industrial Democracy—on whose dais were Senators Herbert Lehman and Dick Neuberger, ex-Sen. Frank Graham, Helen Gahagan Douglas and Norman Thomas, among others.

AS HAYES SPOKE in New York, the object of his affection, the McClellan committee staff, was preparing to go into one or two smaller unions and then fan out in a national fight against the under-world itself.

For the concentration of the Senate probers the rest of this year will be on the gangsters themselves. These are the men who have not only infiltrated unions but have set up legitimate businesses and even business associations.

Of course, the committee people won't give you any specifics. But from what seeps out, there are associations in the garment industry, in the juke box field and in some trucking areas into which the committee probers have been looking for months.

The committee staff, for example, has determined that at least 11 of the 68 delegates to the Nov. 14 national crime convention in Apalachin, N. Y., are in the manufacturing and distributive ends of the garment industry in several states.

OBJECTIVE of committee counsel Bob Kennedy will be to show that some of the "business" associations in a score of states are either controlled by or protected by the mob or that the associations use thugs to keep "labor peace." This means that they use them against legitimate unions.

Kennedy's staff in Chicago—which he frequently personally directed—believes it has evidence of one restaurant chain using goons to enforce the labor conditions that the management had decided on. This puts the other restaurants at a competitive disadvantage.

After the Philadelphia story of wayward union finances, democracy by muscle and at least one shakedown magazine, the committee will call in scores of witnesses from other parts of the land. This will hit many Midwest cities. The details are the committee's secrets for now.

Lots of legitimate unions and businessmen are being pushed around, the committee believes.

THIS APPEARS to be corroborated by none other than the objective J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, who has made a civil libertarian force of his bureau. In his annual report for 1957, Mr. Hoover said:

"As result of the widely publicized hearings of the Senate Select Committee on Improper Activities in the Labor or Management Fields during the fiscal year, greater public attention has been focused on offenses committed by representatives of unions and management."

"During the year alleged federal violations in the labor racketeering category reported to the FBI for investigation increased more than 50 per cent."

"Under the Anti-Racketeering Act and the Labor Management Relations Act, the FBI has jurisdiction over labor racketeering on the part of employers, employees or employees' representatives. These laws prohibit interference with interstate commerce by robbery or extortion, the giving of gratuities by employers to representatives of employees and the soliciting or accepting of such gratuities by employees' representatives. In the 12 months ending June 30, 1957, there were 34 convictions for these offenses."

My good friend, Al Hayes, may be killing the goose that lays the golden yeggs.

Cleveland Registers 6-4 Win Over Slumping Chicago

Nixon, Minoso Hit Home Runs

Carrasquel Delivers 2-Run Double in 3rd

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians hope the first night game of the season at Municipal Stadium tonight will help change that empty seat look.

Ray Narleski (1-1) gets the pitching call for the Indians, who now have won two straight for the first time this season. For the Detroit Tigers in the opener of a four-game series, it will be Jim Bunning, whom Narleski topped in the Motor City last Sunday, 4-2.

Only 1,763 fans attended Thursday's game when the Indians swept the two-game series against the slumping Chicago White Sox, 6-4. Russ Nixon and Minnie Minoso hit home runs and Chico Carrasquel delivered a two-run double in the third inning when the Indians boosted their lead to 5-0.

Dick Tomaneck started for the Tribe and looked terrific in the first four innings when all he yielded was one base on balls. With one out in the fifth, though, the Sox tagged him for four straight hits and added two more off relief hurler Don Mossi for all four of their runs.

Mossi blanked the White Sox the rest of the way with two hits in a fine 4-2-3-inning stint to pick up his first victory against one loss.

Ohio State Nine to Go Against Iowa

By The Associated Press

The Big Ten baseball pennant drive opens today with Ohio State and Minnesota in key roles.

Ohio State's Buckeyes, who finished eighth last season have an impressive 13-1 preliminary record and will start Ron Nischwitz, a southpaw with four decisions, against Iowa in a single game in Columbus.

Minnesota, fifth in 1957 has won 12 straight pre-season contests after dropping its first two starts to Texas and Rice.

The Gophers are at Indiana in their opener.

Minnesota is at Ohio State for the feature in Saturday's round of doubleheaders.

Other single games today send Illinois to Northwestern, Michigan to Michigan State and Purdue to Wisconsin. Rounding out Saturday's twin bills, Purdue is at Northwestern, Michigan State at Michigan, Illinois at Wisconsin and Iowa at Indiana.

Minnesota has a 266 team batting average topped by sophomore left fielder Neil Junker with .391. Ohio State has a fine pitching corps which has a combined 1.62 earned run average. Lefties Don Harper and Carl Unger, or Jim Rutecki will be the Buckeyes' mound choices Saturday.

Michigan has won 10 of its first 12 starts. John Herrnstein has a 10-inning no-hitter to his credit this spring but now is nursing a sore shoulder.

HOW TO HIT A HOMER — Mickey Mantle goes to the bat rack, picks up a couple of clubs and looks at the boss in the dugout. Professor Stengel signals for his most-valuable player to swing for the seats. Why not? The Switcher hit 52 home runs in 1956. He is headed for a big year.

Cincinnati Bows 6-2 to Milwaukee

CINCINNATI (AP)—According to age tables for baseball players, Warren Spahn should be nearing the end of his pitching career. But age hasn't hindered his mastery over the Cincinnati Reds.

Spahn, who has spent his entire major league career pitching for the Braves—both the Boston and Milwaukee variety—made his record against Cincinnati stand at 46-15 Thursday night as he whipped the Reds, 6-2.

Last year he had a 6-1 mark against the Cincinnati Reds. Because of his faulty control, the Reds could have had Spahn out of the ball game in a hurry but they couldn't produce the knock-out hits. Spahn walked the first two men he faced and consistently was behind hitters through the first couple of innings or so.

But the Reds, who got only seven hits, never could come up with the blows that might have sent their tormentor to the showers. In fact, they didn't get to him for a run until the seventh when they put Steve Biko's triple, Don Hoak's single, a passed ball and Ed Bailey's single together for their only runs.

Meanwhile, the Braves, sparked by Hank Aaron's two home runs and some generosity by four Cincinnati pitchers, pecked away for one run in each of six different innings.

They nipped starter Brooks Lawrence for three of them. Aaron unloaded his first homer off Lawrence, in the third and he got his other one off Charley Tate in the fifth.

Having split the two-game series with Milwaukee, the Reds now will play host to the Pittsburgh Pirates for four games starting tonight. Harvey Haddix, who last week won his first start for Cincinnati, is scheduled to pitch against Ronnie Kline.

"Lemon will stay with the San Diego club (of the Pacific Coast League) for three or four weeks and then return here," Lane explained. "By instructing those young pitchers he'll help us and also help himself."

DOVER COACH RESIGNS — DOVER, Ohio (AP)—Dover High School's football coach, Bill Kenney, resigned yesterday.

The 27-year-old Kenney came here from Oberlin High School two years ago to take the $4,500-a-year post. At Dover he won 5 games and lost 19.

HOW NOW, BROWN TROUT? — George Langston's lap is filled with 26-pound, 2-ounce brown trout he caught just below Dale Hollow dam near Celina, Tenn. Trout, believed to be one of the largest ever caught in this country, measured 34 1/2 inches long and 23 1/2 inches in girth, nearly as big as Langston's little son, Sidney, who stands beside his father.

Casper 1st in Line In Tourney of Champs

LAS VEGAS Nev. (AP)—California's Billy Casper, who rated no better than fifth in pre-battle golf prophecies today was first in line as play swung into the second round of the $40,000 Tournament of Champions.

The 26-year-old professional from Apple Valley opened fire on the $10,000 target with a first round 33-32-65, seven blows under par for the 36-36-72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

Casper's lead despite a score that equalled the tournament and course record, was only one stroke ahead of the Toledo strong boy Frank Stranahan.

Alone at 68 was Gene Littler of San Diego. The tournament site is well trapped, water, hazards nicely placed and the main worry is the wind. It failed to show up Thursday and all hoped it would remain quiet today.

Major League Stars — Hitting — Lee Walls, Cubs, cracked three home runs good for eight runs, in 15-2 romp against Dodgers.

Pitching — Mike Fornieles, Red Sox, gained first victory first complete game with seven-hit, 10-inning job that beat the Orioles 4-3.

In the only other game Havana edged Toronto 5-4.

Louise Suggs Favored In Dallas Golf Meet

DALLAS (AP)—The $7,500 Dallas Women's Open golf tournament begins today with just about everybody among the favorites but Louise Suggs at Atlanta possibly rating a mild edge.

Miss Suggs tuned up for the 72-hole event Thursday with a sharp par 71 in a pro-amateur and said she was playing as well as she ever did. That means top golf because Miss Suggs is one of the all-time great players in women's circles.

Defending champion Wiffi Smith of St. Clair, Mich., had a 77 and wasn't too enthusiastic.

The best round was a 1-under-par 70 by Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kans. Miss Smith was the girl who shot a 69 in last year's opening round then soared to an 81 in the second.

Patty Berg of Minneapolis, always one of the favorites had a 75.

Sports Sketches

By GORDON ARNDT

This summer the Salem Softball Association will attempt to organize three leagues of softball competition.

Last season there were four leagues. For the 1958 season, the loops under consideration will be known as Class AA, Class A and the Industrial League.

At 7:30 p.m. tonight on the second floor of the Memorial Building, a meeting is planned for managers of prospective Class A teams. Other meetings held this week for coaches and managers of prospective teams in the Class AA and Industrial loops were attended by only a few interested individuals.

CITY WIDE BASKETBALL and bowling are year after year looked upon by local athletes with enthusiasm. It seems these days that this is not the case with softball.

Aide from such league officials as Dave Brisken, executive-secretary, and Clark Tolson, president, there are few other "ball players" who are making their interest known.

Officials cannot set up a budget, schedule umpires and games without the cooperation of individuals who are directly involved by their actions.

The organization and proper execution of a three-league softball association is not an easy matter. Take for example, the budget. Officials must consider how much it will take to finish outside the red for the season.

It costs an average of $7 per ball game. Two umpires at $2 each per tilt take up $4; the other $3 goes for a ball ($2 and a score-keeper ($1).

IN ORDER to pay for these costs, the league must secure the money from sponsors and the players themselves.

The association has set up dues of $2 per player for this season. This is but a start.

Officials are seeking a total of eight teams for each league. Sponsors of Industrial League teams are asked to put up $100; Class AA sponsors, $75; and Class A sponsor, $40.

If there are eight teams for each of the three leagues, with a total of 240 players (an average of 10 for 24 teams), the league would have enough to more than take care of any incidental expenses that might arise. League officials must even consider the 25 cent payments to the boys who keep a running score of the game on the board outside the fence.

KELLY FIELD S more than an adequate place to play the games. With dugouts, stands, a fence and lights, what more could a player want? All league officials are asking is that the players and managers who intend to play this season "get on the ball."

The softballers in Salem could take an example from the Junior Hot Stove Leagues. Their organization and functioning merits commendation.

Today is April 25 which means at this time in May, the season should be well underway.

Players' presence at meetings is sought only for their own good. It is at these gatherings that they, managers and other officials can learn of the rules and regulations they plan to play under.

Over 3,500 To Vie in Penn Relay Carnival

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Five Olympic champions toe the mark today in opening events at the annual Penn Relay Carnival, which has attracted the largest group of athletes in the meet's 64-year history.

More than 3,500 track and field athletes from 560 schools and colleges are entered in the 94-event program that ends Saturday.

Ron Delany, Ireland's Olympic champion miler, anchors Villanova University's distance medley relay team as the Wildcats go after their third straight title in this event.

Villanova, NCAA and ICAA champion, also will seek to repeat with victories in the mile and sprint medley relays.

Glenn Davis, 400-meter Olympic hurdles titlist described as Ohio State's one-man track team, seeks to capture his speciality and regain the championship he won first in 1956.

In the broad jump, Davis tangles with Olympic champion Greg Bell of Indiana, who is seeking his third straight Penn Relays title in this event.

Bobby Morrow, Olympic 100-yard dash champ, will run in the quarter-mile and half-mile relays, anchoring the Abilene Christian College team.

The fifth Olympic champion to compete today is Harold Connolly, a terrific hammer thrower.

United Beats Salem Junior Varsity, Salineville In Meet

Winners Score 60½ Markers

Quakers Tally 57½; Salineville Gets 22

United High School's varsity trackmen emerged the winners in a triangular meet Thursday afternoon at Reilly Stadium by scoring 60½ points to top both the Salineville varsity and the Salem junior varsity freshmen team.

Duke Snider Is Back At Work Poorer, Sorer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Duke Snider, who tried to throw a ball out of the park and threw his arm out instead, is back at work poorer and sorer.

The Los Angeles Dodgers disciplined their premier flycatcher after he came up with a sore arm while engaging in a capricious throwing contest with Don Zimmer. The pair were trying to heave baseballs over the Coliseum stands — which rise 79 rows and 106 feet above the playing field — before Wednesday night's game with the Chicago Cubs.

When Snider was unable to play in the game, the club announced he would be docked a day's pay about $275, and would draw no more pay until he was able to play again.

The Duke said his arm still hurt Thursday, "But at those prices," he said, "I've got to play." So he did and went one for three as the Cubs trounced Los Angeles 15-2.

Cubs Register 15-2 Victory Over Dodgers

By The Associated Press
The San Francisco Giants are following the same formula that paid off with 1951 and 1954 National League pennants for the club in New York: Win the close ones, and win 'em late.

In '51, the Giants led the league in one-run victories, took the race into a playoff and won by coming from behind with one out in the last of the ninth, for a 5-4 decision in the final game.

In '54, they won better than half their close games, and came up with a hero a day in the late innings.

At the moment, the Giants are hanging on, half a game behind the front-running Chicago Cubs, with last-inning heroics from Daryl Spencer.

Wednesday, he drove in the clinching run by beating out an infield hit for a 6-5 victory over the Cardinals with two out in the ninth.

The Cubs were less subtle, smashing the Los Angeles Dodgers 15-2. Lee Wall, a kid who hit six home runs all last year, drove in eight runs by belting three homers over the left field screen in the Coliseum.

Hank Aaron cracked two solo home runs as the Milwaukee Braves beat Cincinnati 6-2, and Pittsburgh rapped Philadelphia 7-4 in night games.

Warren Spahn gained his 226th victory for the Braves a day after his 37th birthday. He had a shut-out for six, finished with a seven-hitter. Brooks Lawrence lost it.

Virgil Akins Favored to Beat Martinez

NEW YORK — Virgil Akins of St. Louis today was made the 13-10 betting choice to beat Vince Martinez of Paterson N. J., in their world welterweight title bout at the St. Louis Arena, June 6.

The two finalists in the welterweight elimination tournament each will receive $30,000 for the 15-rounder which will be broadcast and telecast (NBC).

The date and site for the championship fight was announced Thursday by the International Boxing Club and promoter Emory Jones of St. Louis. The IBC will pay each fighter $15,000 from the radio-TV receipts. Jones has guaranteed each $15,000, against the privilege of 30 per cent of the gate.

Jones is gambling that St. Louis sports fans will be eager to see Akins, a home town fighter, make his bid for the vacant title. The fight will buck a night baseball game in St. Louis between the Phillies and the Cards.

The welter title has been vacant since Sept. 23, 1957, when Carmen Basilio was forced to yield it when he won the middleweight crown from Sugar Ray Robinson. Basilio is a man without any championship now. He lost the 160-pound title back to Robinson in Chicago last March 25.

Los Angeles — Hank Aceves, 123, Los Angeles, outpointed Noel Humphreys 129, Los Angeles 10.

Portland, Ore. — Randy Sandy Phil Moyer bout postponed to May 6.

Athletics Bang Tigers 7-2; Red Sox Defeat Orioles 4-3

By The Associated Press
Mr. Nice Guy is last in the American League.

For months now, genial Al Lopez has been confident that this is the year his Chicago White Sox will win the pennant. He had the pitching to prevent a repeat of those disastrous 14 defeats in 22 games against the New York Yankees that killed Sox hopes last season.

So what happens? After nine games, his big staff has been able to win only two—and they haven't even had to face the Yankees yet. The Big Four look like this: Billy Pierce (0-2), Dick Donovan (0-2), Early Wynn (1-1) and Jim Wilson (1-1). Only Pierce, last year's 20-game winner, has managed a complete game.

Wilson, the veteran right-hander, didn't last three innings Thursday as the Cleveland Indians cuffed the White Sox 6-4 for their fifth straight defeat.

Kansas City reclaimed second place from Detroit bashing the Tigers 7-2 and climbing within a game of the Yankees, who were rained out at Washington. Boston won two straight for the first time defeating Baltimore 4-3 in 10 innings.

Kansas City failed to hit a home run for the first time since opening day, but the ambitious A's slugged loser Bob Shaw and two relievers for 12 hits.

Dick Gernert's pinch single scored the winner for the Red Sox off reliever Billy O'Dell.

Most of Lakes, Ponds in State In Good Condition For Fishing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—This is no time to loiter along a river bank if you're a fisherman. You'll have to find a pond or lake.

Practically all the 't tsas streams are roily or muddy, and fishing is not too good the state department of natural resources said Thursday in its weekly report to those bent on piscatorial pursuits.

Here and there a stream is O.K., and most of the ponds and lakes are in good condition. Here's the sectional outlook:

NORTHWESTERN — Streams roily, muddy and high, with poor fishing. Several lakes, including St. Marys East Harbor and Ox'ow, in good shape and yielding bass, crappies and catfish.

NORTHEASTERN — Best fishing in such lakes as Pleasant Hill, Charles Mill, Guilford, Zepernick, Punderson and Minisila. Catches include bass, bluegills, crappies, and catfish.

EAST CENTRAL AND SOUTH-

EASTERN — Streams in poor condition. Best prospects in Burr Oak, Piedmont, Leesville, Clendening, Tappan, Clouse, Hope and Alma lakes. Variety of species being taken.

CENTRAL AND SOUTHERN — Blacklick, Big Walnut, Mohican, and Kokosing rivers are perfect and some smallmouth bass being caught. Most success, however, reported from such impoundments as Buckeye Lake, Delaware reservoir, Rocky Fork, Hoover and Jackson. All are clear and normal, and good catches of bass and crappies, are being made.

SOUTHWESTERN — Streams are roily and high, and fishing poor. Some streams in Clermont, Clinton, Green, Shelby and Warren probably will be ready for weekend fishermen. Best lake conditions at Kiser, Stomelick, Cowan, Logan and Sinclair where fishing is reported good.

Floyd Stahl Resigns Post At Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — There will be some delay before Ohio State University names a new head basketball coach to succeed Floyd Stahl who resigned.

Soon after the athletic board accepted Stahl's resignation Wednesday night, ending his eight-year reign, Prof. Roderick D. Barden departed for Sweden.

The professor is chairman of the athletic board and of a four-man screening committee named to check the qualifications of aspirants to the coaching job.

University officials said they had no idea just how long Prof. Barden would be abroad on personal business, but they indicated little or nothing would be done about filling the job until he returns.

Meanwhile, the first man to formally apply for the berth is Paul Walker, coach of the mighty Middies of Middletown who have won Ohio's high school championship seven of the last 15 years.

Walker, whose teams have won five of the titles, starting in 1947, has a record of 248 wins against 40 losses at the Middle helm.

Fred Taylor, the university's freshman basketball and baseball coach, also figures high among the candidates who are expected to flood the screening committee with applications.

This eclipsed the Air Force mark of 2,704 m.p.h. set last month at the Air Force Missile Development Center, Alamogordo, N.M.
